The Local Choice for Personal Injury

The attorneys at Jones Kelleher have achieved national recognition for their handling of some of the most complex, high-stakes, and historic personal injury cases in New England. The firm's team of lawyers has established a long history of achieving multimillion dollar recoveries in serious general liability, construction site accident, product liability, and medical malpractice cases for its clients.

These accomplished lawyers, including Patrick Jones, Donna Corcoran, Tim Kelleher, Rob DeLello, Ralph Liguori, Richard Paterniti, Audrey Poore, Erin Thurston, and Paul Keenan, represent over 200 years of combined experience over a broad spectrum of catastrophic personal injury and wrongful death matters. The attorneys at Jones Kelleher have built a legal practice that has become a recognized leader in New England on behalf of individuals and their families.

Jones Kelleher attorneys have also been recognized individually in publications such as Super Lawyers Magazine and The Best Lawyers in America® for their result-oriented advocacy. The team of attorneys includes members and leaders of prominent legal organizations: Jones is a past president of the Massachusetts Academy of Trial Attorneys (MATA) and the Rhode Island Association for Justice (RIAJ). Kelleher is also a past president of MATA. Liguori is a past president of RIAJ. "The stability of our team over the past 30 years is a benchmark of the commitment we share for each other and for our clients," explains Jones. "We are proud to be the local personal injury firm with a history of proven results for individuals and families in our communities."

Building on their commitment to improving lives, the attorneys are actively involved in charity work, contributing to many academic institutions and nonprofit organizations. The attorneys also participate in continuing legal education programs and lecture at local law schools and colleges.
