BIOGRAPHY

Paul L. Keenan is an associate with Jones Kelleher in the firm's Providence office. Paul's practice focuses on complex personal injury and medical malpractice matters. He works on a variety of cases, including motor vehicle, slip and fall, construction, product liability, premises liability, and medical malpractice.

Prior to joining Jones Kelleher's Providence office as an associate, Paul spent over three years working as a general liability litigation paralegal in the firm's Boston office while he attended law school.

Paul graduated magna cum laude from New England Law | Boston in 2019. During law school, he served as a member and editor of the New England Law Review. His Note regarding opioid crisis litigation was published in Volume 52 of the New England Law Review.

Paul currently serves as Chair of the Town of North Attleborough Commission on Disability. He is also involved with local non-profit organizations, including the Joe Andruzzi Foundation, where he serves on the organization's Young Professionals Council.

Paul is licensed to practice law in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.
